

FOR PRESIDENT. ULYSSES S. GRANT. OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT. HENRY WILSON. OF MASSACHUSETTS.

"GENERAL GRANT NEVER HAS BEEN BEATEN, AND

HE NEVER WILL BE."-Horace Greeley.

SIX MONTHS

have gone on the wings of Time since the Monitor first set sail on the vexatious sea of newspaperdom; and contrary to the expectations of some doubting ones-but not contrary to our own however-we have managed to keep our head above water. We have all the while had a good deal of faith in the belief that a newspaper in this part of the county would have no trouble in finding enough of victuals and drink to satisfy any ordinary appetite. And now, judging from past and present indications, we are more than ever convinced, that by putting a little hope and charity with our faith, we shall be able not only to make a comfortable float, but a good strong swim. 'How sails the Moniton?' is a question that has been asked many times, both through the mail and by persons visiting our office. To those that have come to us by letter we have made no reply, for the reason that we could not well write to each one a separate letter, and did not wish to be continually telling our readers of the wonderful luck we were having. And now, kind friends, we will answer all at once and then keep still until the end of the year. The Moniton is now fairly under way, having sailed for 26 weeks without hitting either rock or snag; nor has any great wave of discouragement slopped on deck to shiver our top mast or carry away our jib boom, but everything has gone as smoothly as we had any reason to anticipate. In short, it has been as good as "Moonlight Thro'

(with) Mary." If we judge from what people tell us, we are certain that the paper has given satisfaction,-to some at least. We are also aware that it has not just suited everybody. We did not expect that in the first place. The man that can please everybody, generally has some terrible disease about him that takes him away from this earth very sudden. One was never known to live over ninety days beyond the age of 21. But our aim has been, if we could not please every one to please all we could, and so it will always be. If offense has been given to any one-by anything that we have said -we would say to such, that it was unintentional and we beg pardon.

the Pines," or "Sitting on the Stile

We attribute our success thus far, not to any talent or ability of our own, but to our Political, Religious and Agricultural editors; to our local correspondents, and the promptness of our subscribers in paying up. To these and to all others, for their kind words and wishes, and assistance in helping us along, we render our heartfelt thanks. We appreciate your friendship, feel truly grateful and will try and "pay" sometime.

The Argus and Patriot thinks there is no doubt that the Baltimore convention will nominate Greeley & Brown; if it does, thinks they should receive every Democratic vote. More than two-thirds of the Democratic conventions have instructed their delegates to vote for Greeley. The politicians have inaugurated certain defeat twice in succession. Now the people have taken the matter into their own hands and undertaken to decide for themselves who shall lead them to victory or defeat.

The following is the flag which floats at the head of a red-hot Southern Greeley & Brown newspaper, printed at Lexington Missouri, called the Lexington Cancasian, and is a fair sample of the reading matter throughout the whole paper. It claims to be full of gall and wormwood for the "skunk-and-hog-skin-cleaner of the disgraced White House," as it styles our President. It has a long list of pretty names for Grant, such as "Grnat, the Usurper," "Grant, the thief," "Grant, the Nightmare," "Grant, the Life Crushing Monster," "Ulysses, th Tumblebug," "Ulysses the Beast," &c The editor of this paper claims to be the originator of the Liberal movement.

FEARFUL RAILROAD DISASTER IN CAN-ADA. - Last Saturday night the engine of an express train on the Grand Trunk Railway jumped the track, while running at full speed near Belleville Ontario, causing two second-class passenger cars to telescope with the baggage car, and killing twenty-three of the passengers and seriously injuring forty-two others, so that very few of them can recover. There were also two first-class coaches in the train, but none of the passengers in these were injured. The accident was undoubtedly caused by a defective rail. The dispatch giving an account of the disaster says :

The sight was one to baffle descriphere and there heard. Those who were | zard." least injured walked about swathed in bandages and conversed freely about the occurrence. The express and baggage car was forced past the broken engine without injuring the messenger or bagengine, allowing the steam to fill the second-class car, which was crowded with passengers, many of them lumbermen en route for Quebec. Mrs. Cummings Priest, who was said to have eloped with a young Jackson, but who finally consented to return to her husband, indignantly denies the statement in the following spicy letter. "I, the wife of Cummings Priest of Wells River, have not eloped with Ishmael Jackson, as it was stated in the than anything likely to be achieved by Union. Neither had I any desire or thoughts of it. I went home and was gone three days and then my husband came after me. The people of Wells River are in pretty small business if it has got so that any one can't go to their mother without they have eloped with some fellow. They have got to have something to talk about, for if they attend to their own business, it would go harder with them than the cankerrash did with the children last fall, and more would be sick I am sure. But the greatest trouble with them is they are all mad because they can't get some one to elope with."

STATE REPUBLICAN CONVEN-TION.

The Republican Convention held at Montpelier on Wednesday of last week, for the nomination of state officers, was the most exciting which has been wit nessed in Vermont for years.

The delegates were mostly on band the previous evening, and the friends of the more prominent candidates displayed great activity and earnestness in behalf of their respective favorites. The Convention met at 11 o'clock for preliminary business, the appointment of committees, etc. The temporary organization was as follows: President, Wm. G. Shaw of Burlington; Secretaries, H. R. Stoughton of Randolph, Elisha May of St. Johnsbury, M. B. Carpenter of St. Albans. This was afterwards made permanent with the addition of a Vice-President from each county. Out of a total of 453 delegates chosen by the different towns, 410 were present. While awaiting the report of one of the committees, a short speech was made by Senator

When the decisive hour arrived, the scene was highly exciting.

The first ballot for Governor resulted as follows : Whole number of votes cast,, Necessary to choice, Julius Converse had John W. Stewart. 125 Fred. Billings.

No decision being made a second balot was ordered. James M. Slade of Middlebury now withdrew the name of Gov. Stewart in favor of Mr. Converse, and the ballot resulted as follows: Whole number of votes cast, Necessary to choice, 202 Converse had 202 Billings. Scattering.

The scene which followed was beyond description. Mr. Converse not being present, call was made for Mr. Billings, who after lated by an unconstitutional Crusade, for the the noise had somewhat subsided, took the platform and made an half hour's speech which for manliness of tone, kindness of feeling and eloquence of expression was a remarkable effort, and won him hosts of friends.

> The ballot for Lieut, Governor resulted as follows: Whole number of votes cast,

Necessary to choice, Russell S. Taft of Montpelier, Henry Clark of Rutland, And Mr. Taft was declared nominated. For State Treasurer, John A. Page of Montpelier, the present incumbent, was renominated without opposition. For Presidential Electors at large, Harmon Canfield of Arlington and E. J.

Jewett of Montpelier were chosen The resolutions adopted were seven in number and of the usual stamp.

HISTORY.

Some time since the New York World leading and well known Democratic organ, published a column of extracts from Greeley's writings in the Tribune, illustrating the compliments he used to shower upon his Democratic friends, the Liberals from the disrupted ranks of | many of whom are now so anxious to dying Radicalism. It assures Greeley's rally around his cause accepting his doctrines. We give one or two sam-

From the Tribune, January 7, 1868. For the last thirty years every American slaveholder on the African coast has accounted himself in politics a democrat. So every one who chooses to live by pugilism, or gambling, or harlotry, with nearly every keeper of a tippling-house, is politically a democrat. He believes in laissez faire"—that "the world is governed too much"-that "the best government is that which governs least." He wants "his trade to move without restriction." He joyfully submits to the world, and echoes its cry. Let the people eat, drink and amuse themselves as they see fit, so long as they do not infringe on the same liberty in others." A purely selfish interest attaches the lewd, ruffianly, criminal and dangerous classes to the democratic party by the instinct of self preservation, the preservation of their own to make gain of other's degredation.

Evening Post adds. "As he has never late, is to commit suicide by an explogiven any signs of repentance it is to be inferred that he still regards his old enemies in this light. It will be seen that he was not satisfied with opposing their principles and measures, which is all that an honorable and fair-minded controvertist cares to do, but he must needs dissect their personal characters, endeavor to show that they were as destitute of decency and virtue as they were of good faith and sound opinions. It must be pleasant for the gentlemen who now propose to make their slanderer their champion, to read his former high estimates of themselves."

POLITICAL.

Of the Democratic newspapers in Georgia four will not support Greeley any how: forty-five favor a Democratic nomination, but are ready to support the Baltimore candidate, whoever he may be; one opposes Greeley, but thinks it best to nominate a liberal Republican and only six think that Greeley is "the best that can be done."

Brick Pomeroy says Greeley insulted the Republicans who for years have stood by him, and in bolting the party and setting himself up a a god, reveals himself as a mere office-seeker, and turns into active workers against him the honest old Republicans who for years have looked upon him as devoted to the party rather than self.

While there is every reason for anticipating the indorsement of Greeley and Rrown at Baltimore, it must not be taken for granted that this course will not meet with bitter and determined opposition from many of the old-time leaders of the party. In the South, mer like A. H. Stevens, Robert Toombs, Ben Hill and Judge Linton; in the North such men as Judge Jere. Black, Charles O'Conor, Senators Thurmon and Casser ly, will strive against this surrender, and in the event of failure will do nothing to help it forward in the coming campaign.

Another Nomination .- A conference of the "disgruntled" "Liberals," who find Greeley's nomination a hard pill to swallow, was held at New York last Thursday, but the meeting began and ended in talk and amounted to nothing. On Friday a few of the "reformers" held a supplementary conference and nominated Wm. S. Groesbeck of Ohio for President and Fred Law Olmstead of New York for Vice-Presi-

Voorhees absolutely refuses to go to Baltimore, and firmly says: "I would rather, of a dark night, risk the perilous edge of some Alpine precipice, on a drunken mule."

The Louisville Courier-Jounnal puts the whole philosophy of the Democratic support of Greeley in a few words:

Greeley may be, and doubtless is objectionable to the Democracy, but no other means of defeating the Radical party offers, and Democrats have no other choice than to accept him. After the snake has been killed, we shall have it in our power to do as we please.

The Democracy have yielded no jot or tittle of their designs-they are simply playing 'possum. But we notify the Courier-Journal that that snake isn't killed yet, nor does it propose to be for Alex. H. Stephens believes that if the Democratic party (old style) can be united and move in a solid phalanx to the support of a sound Democratic platform, he can be triumphantly elected.
